Ms Loh Xin Min (罗心敏) Lead Teacher of Economics, Eunoia Junior College 	Central to Ms Loh’s teaching practice is the demonstration of empathetic, meaningful, and positive relationships with her students. Her commitment to student development is evident in her structured facilitation of class discussions and collaborative activities that encourage students to express their views and reflect on their learning experiences. Ms Loh is deeply passionate about Economics, and often integrates real-world examples into her lessons, and encourages her students to apply economic concepts to their daily lives. To sharpen students’ critical thinking, she actively uses questioning techniques to guide students to reflect on and refine their thinking processes. Ms Loh harnesses technology and online interactive tools, including those available on the Singapore Student Learning Space (SLS), to facilitate active and inquiry-based learning in Economics. She also taps on various activities and tools to assess her students’ learning, provide prompt feedback for improvement, and refine her lesson plan to better cater to students with diverse abilities. Ms Loh is dedicated to refining her craft, and encourages her peers to adopt good practices in teaching. For example, she led and facilitated discussions on assessment practices within her school's Economics department, and conducted a workshop on inquiry-based learning for Economics teachers from various schools. Ms Loh also mentors beginning teachers, offering guidance and practical advice to refine their instructional techniques and build rapport with students. In addition, Ms Loh is an active member of the Economics Subject Chapter at the Academy of Singapore Teachers. She has organised learning journeys for fellow teachers to engage in hands-on, experiential learning, and to gain insights from real-world applications of Economic concepts. Ms Loh’s role in the organising committee for the 2024 Economics Teachers’ Learning Festival showcased her devotion to grow the fraternity of Economics teachers by creating platforms for knowledge exchange and fostering continuous learning amongst Economics teachers.
